

Abstract

This invention relates to computerized systems and methods for producing domestic relations orders (DRO's). In one embodiment, a computerized system for producing DROs includes a receiver for receiving information relating to a domestic relations order, a rules engine for authenticating the received information, and a document assembler for automatically incorporating the received information into a domestic relations order.